ORGANIZED IN ORANGEAnnual Exhibitions Will Be Given.
Relics of War Between States
Unearthed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Fredericksburg, Va., March 27.—The Fair Association of Orange county has been organized, to give annual exhibitions, the following being the officers for the first year: W. W. Sanford, president; George W. Barbour, T. K. Row, G. G. Leigh, vice-presidents; H. C. Warren, secretary; V. P. Shackelford, treasurer; Directors—George T. Marshall, T. L. Gillum, Dr. J. S. Andrews, E. V. Hoffman, E. F. Summers, W. F. Jones, R. D. Browning, J. N. Andrews, Lee Fannin, H. O. Lynn, E. J. Woodville, G. E. Vaughn, William DuPont, L. A. Rhodes, H. T. Holladay, D. F. Solby, R. F. Hoberton, Charles N. Harris and N. Z. Weikel.

W. G. Beane, of Lancaster county, lost a cargo of 50,000 feet of lumber in a storm a few days ago, when the schooner on which the lumber was loaded was wrecked in the Chesapeake Bay.

Harry L. Marchant has been appointed farm demonstrator for Middlesex county.

Edward Brown, of Stafford county while plowing, upturned a rifle barrel in an old canteen, and an old knife, relics of the War Between the States. The knife was in a perfect state of preservation except for the rust on the blade, and on the handle was cut the initials H. A. N. The handle is of walnut wood, and had become petrified. It is evident that these relics were left by some of the Federal troops during their encampment in Stafford county, near this city, in the sixties.

While on his way to this city from Spotsylvania county, William F. Kent had his leg broken. Becoming cold, he walked beside his wagon, which was loaded with railroad ties, stumbled over some rough ground, fell, and the wheel of the wagon passed over his left leg, breaking it above the ankle.

SHAFTS FROM SPORTLAND

By GUS MALBERT.

Now wasn't it a great improvement?

We play 'em again to-day.

Get a kopeck that we win.

Did you notice Jimmie Sullivan? Guess he wasn't there with the trusty willow. Two times up and two bingles where they were not.

George Cowan also got his in the right place, and so did Lodge. Guess we haven't got a likely brace of catchers.

And, folks, take you' hat off to big Hall. He came here, paying his own way, went into the box yesterday and pitched a great game, allowing but two hits in his three innings. And not a run would have resulted if there had been clean fielding behind him.

Don't want to be hard on Clauser, but he doesn't look like league timber after yesterday's showing. Six errors are quite a bunch to have in one game, and there could have been several more charged but that the leniency of those scoring made allowances.

It may be that the boy is suffering from stage fright. If he is, he wants to get over it.

I would like to see Sullivan try Baker at second and Pfahler at third.

By the way, Pfahler is going to play third to-day if yesterday's arrangement holds.

Farrell's line-up will be about the same.

McCabe is sore all over, and that's why he has not shown up to such good advantage.

Notice the way that boy Baker is hitting this season. He isn't bragging about himself as a stealer, but is willing to wager that he does a great deal better than he did last season.

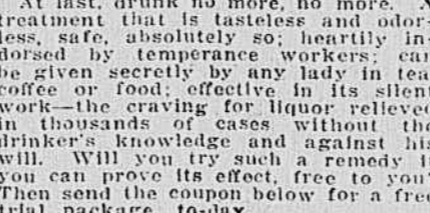

We came pretty nearly getting Danny Kauff, only he is homesick and wouldn't stop in Richmond.

Pretty good showing for only two games together, and it is going to be even better to-day.

Don't forget that we outbatted them.

nette Kellerman, the female human fish, to be her sister.

In these suffragette days very few women are able to even sew in their boudoirs, but Miss Seldon performs the trick under water and then devours one of the Chevalier's best bananas, just as though she really enjoyed it.

The act closes with a wonderful display of fancy diving, as graceful and artistic a performance as any one could wish to see.

Of recent seasons players have shown a decided liking for plays which show the human side of life as it is to-day, such as "All in the Family," "The Deep Purple," etc. Now comes a new comedy which is quite different from these, but which, like them, deals with the life of to-day—

"Gordon's Wife," in which Miss Annie Russell will appear at the Academy tomorrow night. The star, who comes here under the management of Liebler & Co., appears to have one of the best roles of her long career.

Will Present "The Rivals." The Richmond High School Dramatic Club will play "The Rivals" at the Academy of Music Thursday night. The club has been rehearsing for the past two months, and a splendid performance is anticipated. The cast is as follows:

Lydia Langrish, Miss Jeanette Stearns; Julia, Lydia's friend, Miss Annie McElroy; Mrs. Malaprop, Miss Terrence Johnson; Lucy, maid of Lydia, Miss Maude Randall; Bob Acres, Robert Phinney; Captain Absolute, Will J. Parrish; Sir Lucius O'Trigger, Harold Callish; Sir Anthony Absolute, Moore; Bretstein; Faulkland, Haskins; Coleman; Fags, valet to Captain Absolute, Charles Montgomery; Thomas, coachman, Percy Hamlin; David, valet to Acres, Sam F. Padgett; Boy Otto Hamilton.

Jefferson School Loses to Fishburne

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Charlottesville, Va., March 27.—Jefferson School, after disposing of the Richmond Academy and McGuire School teams last week, went down to-day before the Fishburne Military Academy nine, from Waynesboro, the cadets winning 3 to 0 in a contest which went only six innings, as the visitors had to catch a train. Both teams played sharply, despite the muddy diamond at the Horse Show grounds. In the third inning the cadets scored two runs with two bags occupied, Stevens lined out a nice double, sending both runners home. With two down in the fourth, Moore knocked a home run over the left field fence. Vandiver pitched a clever game for Jefferson. He fanned five and gave but two bases on balls.

Score: R. H. E.
Fishburne 002100—3 0 1
Jefferson 000000—0 3 1
Batteries: Fishburne—Woods, Pravel and Moore; Jefferson—Vandiver and Gooch.
